

Virtual Card

Mitigate fraud while controlling costs and creating a revenue stream for your business

Finance teams are under more and more pressure to reduce risk, increase revenue and control expenses. By integrating virtual card into your overall commercial payment strategy you can reduce expenses and transform your customer payments into a revenue stream that comes with the most secure form of payment available.

How does it work?

- Single use credit card numbers are generated for each transaction and become invalid once the transaction is complete.
- Each card is validated for an exact transaction amount, helping to mitigate the risk of being overcharged or suffering unauthorized purchases.
- Switching to an electronic payment is more cost effective because it reduces the need for paper checks and manual processing, while protecting you from errors and fraud.
- There are no out-of-pocket costs to implement a virtual card program.
- A monthly rebate is calculated based on spend volume
