

Digitize and customize crucial financial and project documents, get enhanced data, and improve workflows between the job site and the office.

Job site records are a critical factor in any project. Documentation regarding safety, compliance, change orders, engineering drawings, contracts, and budgets is essential for successful jobs. Sharing information easily between teams in the field and the office is equally important. Connecting Acumatica Construction Edition and GoFormz enables contractors to create custom forms, extract and share business-critical data, and thrive in the new digital construction landscape.

Adapt legacy forms to meet your changing business needs and achieve enriched data from the field or office.

GoFormz delivers user-friendly solutions to many of the complex problems that the construction industry faces when documenting the many facets of any project. Physical documents can be scanned and digitized. Business and project information is integrated directly from Acumatica into the newly digitized business form for easier completion in the field. Forms can be filled out from the job site regardless of mobile connection abilities. Custom data fields can be added as needed. Add queries that allow you to pull out critical business information and calculate vital statistics. Submitted forms streamline project workflows by synchronizing data with Acumatica in real-time for designated stakeholders.
