GENERAL LEDGER

A central repository for collecting and analyzing your business information that uses flexible accounts and sub-accounts to integrate and consolidate your entire business

The General Ledger (GL) is the central repository for your financial information that includes your chart of accounts, financial periods, ledgers, allocations, and more. Entries can be made directly into the GL or they can be made from other application modules and then posted to the GL module.

KEY FEATURES OF THE GENERAL LEDGER

Flexible accounts	Define the length and segmentation of accounts and subaccounts. Change structure even after implementation.
Advanced security	Control which users and roles can view and create transactions for specific GL accounts and subaccounts.
GL consolidation	Import data from entities with different currencies and account structures to create consolidated financial reporting.
Reporting and inquiries	Monitor key aspects of your business in real-time by creating custom inquiries, dashboards, and reports.
Workflow and approval	Assign roles/people to approve transactions, release transactions, and close accounting periods.

Branch	Account	Description	Subaccount	Project	Project Task	Ref. Number	Quantity	UOM	Debit Amount

ADDITIONAL GENERAL LEDGER FEATURES AND BENEFITS

FEATURE	DESCRIPTION
Budgeting and approval	Create an unlimited number of budgets for comparative analysis and monitoring. Import and export files from Excel to seamlessly feed into your budget ledger and reports.
Flexible financial periods	Define custom financial periods. Keep periods open as long as required to complete data entry and audit balances. During data entry, the system will suggest the financial period and issue warnings if overridden.
On-the-fly sub account entry	Enable on-the-fly entry to add new combinations of valid subaccount segments during data entry. This allows you to maintain complex reporting requirements without pre-defining GL segments..
Support multiple currencies	Enter GL transactions in different currencies by activating multiple currency support. The system maintains balances in the base currency and the foreign currency based on translation rules you establish.
Allocation of GL balances	Distribute GL account balances based on predefined allocation rules. Establish allocation rules based on percentages, quantities, statistical data, or proportionally to other GL account balances.
Reversing entries	Reverse GL transactions with one click. Create automatically reversing transactions that generate the reversing entry in the next financial period.
Drill down to documents	Access GL balances through inquiry screens and reports. Drill down to the originating document from any inquiry screen or report, even if the transaction was created in another module.
Recurring transactions	Create recurring transactions based on specific schedules and time periods. Specify templates with expiration dates, execution limits, and custom execution schedules.
Audit trails	Review which user entered and changed the details of any GL transaction. Any potential auditing process will be simplified with notes and supporting electronic documents that are automatically attached to transactions.
