Maximize Revenue Opportunities and Cash Flow, Improve Customer Service

By using Acumatica ERP contracts, you can bill customers recurrently and configure different combinations of terms and services to satisfy your needs and those of your customers. Contracts may include services that your company provides—such as subscription services, internet access, or support provided to customers during a specified period of time. Other contracts may contain service agreements to maintain and repair a product during the manufacturer warranty period or after it has expired. Acumatica supports both scenarios with flexible and automated billing options.
