Construction, bundled into one fixed price

Software, implementation, and support

Acumatica bundles software, implementation, and ongoing support into a comprehensive solution for modern construction businesses, delivering real-time project visibility, financial control, and field collaboration.

Empower teams to streamline operations, manage budgets, schedules, and resources efficiently while driving profitability and growth across every phase of construction.

Construction accounting and operations

Delivered on time, on budget, backed by expert support.

Acumatica combines essential financial and operational capabilities into one complete, purpose-built platform. Designed specifically for construction businesses, it includes everything needed to manage projects, accounting, compliance, and field operations—right out of the box. As you outgrow entry-level systems like QuickBooks, this solution provides the tools to manage increasing complexity without skipping a beat.

Because software, implementation, and support are packaged together, teams see faster time to value without having to coordinate multiple vendors. Built-in tools are tailored to construction workflows, helping teams improve visibility, automate manual processes, and maintain control over budgets and timelines. This keeps companies focused on building, not managing disconnected systems.

THE IDEAL CUSTOMER

- Is a small to midsized contractor outgrowing basic accounting software.
- Needs to connect disparate systems for a single source of truth.
- Has an accountant or operational leader who will serve as the internal champion.

This deployment model is ideal for companies seeking an easy-to-use, streamlined solution. If your needs involve highly customized code or complex third-party integrations, other Acumatica options might better meet those needs. This option provides flexibility as your construction company grows and evolves, enabling you to seamlessly switch to a more advanced software package when the time comes.
