Manufacturing, bundled into one fixed price

Software, implementation, and support

Acumatica bundles software, implementation, and ongoing support into a complete solution for modern manufacturing businesses, delivering real-time production visibility, financial control, and shop floor collaboration.

Empower your team to streamline operations and manage resources efficiently, driving growth and profitability throughout every phase of production.

Manufacturing accounting and operations

From shop floor to top floor, backed by expert support.

Acumatica combines essential financial and operational capabilities into one complete, purpose-built platform. Designed specifically for growing discrete manufacturers, it includes everything needed to manage production, accounting, inventory, and sales—right out of the box. As you outgrow entry-level systems like QuickBooks, this solution provides the tools to manage increasing complexity without skipping a beat.

Because software, implementation, and support are packaged together, teams see faster time to value without having to coordinate multiple vendors. Built-in tools are tailored to manufacturing workflows, helping your teams improve visibility, automate manual processes, and maintain control over costs and production timelines. This keeps your company focused on building great products, not managing disconnected systems.

THE IDEAL CUSTOMER

- Is a small to midsized manufacturer outgrowing basic accounting software.
- Needs to connect disparate systems for a single source of truth.
- Has an accountant or operational leader who will serve as the internal champion.

This deployment model is the perfect choice for companies needing a straightforward, affordable, and user-friendly solution. If your needs involve highly customized code or complex third-party integrations, other Acumatica options might better meet those needs. This option offers the flexibility your manufacturing business needs to scale, ensuring a seamless transition to more advanced software as your requirements evolve.
